The New Era.

Newmarket, Friday Oct. 1, 1858.

General Summary.

The Daily Globe newspaper can now be obtained, immediately after the opening of the Mail every morning, at the New Era Book Store—Price 2d.

The principal members of the Brown-Union Methodist were constituted at a dinner in Hamilton last week. The demonstration appears to have been a very successful one.

Meeting of the members of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, in Newmarket, and all friendly to the establishment of a Sabbath School in connection therewith, will be held in the Chapel, Piccadilly Street, on Tuesday evening next, at half past Ten o'clock.

The people of Toronto, for the first time in January next, have the power to elect directly their own mayor; and, from the Leader of Monday last, we learn that Wm. Lyon Mackenzie, Esq., is likely to be the man, as a mark of the approbation of the people for having recurred to them.

Correspondents.—A continuation of the letter from Rev. G. Wadsworth has been received, but unavoidably postponed to make room for reports of public meetings: also one from "Adelphus." They will appear next week.

We have been requested to announce that a meeting of Ladies favourable to Tract distribution, takes place in the Congregational Church, on Monday next, the 4th inst. The object we believe, is the covering of tracts ready for distribution, &c. A number of young gentlewomen might also make themselves very useful, by their assistance.

The Provincial Fair.

The Exhibition this year is really a magnificient one.

We have not room to say much this week; but on the grounds there may be seen nearly every description of domestic animal, from the huge Clyde to a small Guinea Pig.

In manufactures from a Steam Engine to an apple paring machine; from a threshing machine or stump-puller to a nail and brush-work.

In the Ladies' department, from a coarse rug carpet to the most delicate description of embroidery; from the simple pencil sketch to the most elaborate oil-painting. In fact, the visitor becomes completely bewildered with the scene.

Fruits, vegetables, &c., are largely represented, together with plants, flowers &c., in endless variety. Go to the fair.

Lloydtown Tea Party.

The Sons of Temperance, of Lloydtown, held a demonstration in Mr. Lloyd's Woods, near that thriving village, on Saturday, the 18th ultmo. The day was cold and rather disagreeable; which, no doubt, prevented many from attending that otherwise would have been present. However, the assembly numbered about 300, and a very agreeable afternoon was spent together. The refreshments were first, rate, and plentifully supplied, such as reflected great credit upon the ladies of the locality.

Lloydtown Band—"Cheer boys, cheer."

Mr. John Graham was the first speaker. He had no idea of being called upon to make a speech, and, therefore, was not prepared to advance anything new, much less calculated to please. Few men had been more benefited by the temperance movement than himself, who was ready to declare the fact at all times and under all circumstances. "Hear, hear."

The visitor becomes completely bewildered with the scene.

Fruits, vegetables, &c., are largely represented, together with plants, flowers &c., in endless variety. Go to the fair.

Holland Landing Soiree.

The Sons of Temperance, of Holland Landing Division, held a Soiree on Thursday last; the 23rd inst. A temporary booth was erected adjoining the Sons Hall, in which the refreshments were provided. Between 250 and 300 were present on the occasion.—After the assembly had discussed the "good things of life" in their hearts' content, they adjourned to the Hall to listen to the intellectual treat the committee had provided. The Holland Landing and Queen'sville Bands were present, and contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Arthur McMaster, Esq., of Bradford, was called to the chair.

A suitable prayer was then offered for the success of the cause, by Rev. Mr. Caswell.

The Chairman then rose and said, when this meeting was first spoken of, it was in anticipation that Joseph Hartman, Esq., would have been present to occupy the position of chairman; and in the absence of that gentleman, Mr. (Mr. McM.) cheerfully accepted the honor, and in doing so, felt he could estimate the position. He had only to refer to the gentlemen around him to assure them a rich treat was in store; and he was also satisfied that very large majority present to day, were favorable to the temperance movement. For his own part, he had not only been a reader, but a consumer, for many years; but he had been brought to see the impropriety of using or recommending the use of this destructive drug. "Cheers." The cholera had claim its thousands, and, in so far as concerned the health of the public, it was not connected with the "temperance." When we see the denormalizing tendency of the public, every philanthropist—every christian should give such institutions as the Sons of Temperance and kindred associations their countenance and support. "Cheers."

Lloydtown Band—"March."

Rev. Mr. McRitchie was next introduced, and commenced his address by congratulating the meeting upon the good order that had prevailed, and the respectability of the congregation assembled. The community were decided in favor of temperance principles, and made ready and all anxious to show their colors. It was an old saying—that wonders would never cease, and a report in yesterday's papers, of the proceedings of a certain synod, verified its truthfulness; for we learn that a quiet body adopted a petition to be presented to the next session of Parliament, praying for the erection of an Asylum for Inebriates. (Laughter.) He thought if they had prayed the Legislature to remove the cause, the effects would have been far more decided. He advised that religion that extended the right of fellowship to all who professed the teachings of the Word of God. (Cheers.) He also advised associations like the present, aiming for their object, the elevation of mankind. (Cheers.)

Mr. (Mr. Bache) introduced, as the first speaker, had, after complimenting the chairman on the distinguished position he occupied, said—"considered the temperance cause intimately connected with the cause of God." Where could a truly Christian man be found a drunkard? Those who loved God would serve, before they should be needed for the Asylum. "Hear, hear." It was stranger that in this enlightened age, such an idea would even be entertained, much less emanate from such a source. "Hear, hear." Had they perceived for a Maine Law, it would at least have shown their good endeavor to remove the cause of so much evil. The Rev. gentleman then urged the principles of his Word—

Objections were frequently urged by the opponents of this movement, that temperance lectures did not bring forward scripture to prove their position. Now, Solomon said—

Who is a mocker?—among drudgery, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. "Hear, hear." He thought this plain language; and if a man may not wise, what was he? The man is deceived who takes it all in. The chairman stated he had been a reader; and it is, he must be somewhat acquainted with the frauds practiced by manufacturers. The London Porter was considered the best in the world, and that was manufactured, from the Thames—the reservoir of filth for the city of London. "Hear, hear." In reference to the indecent use of alcoholic beverages, he would ask—can there be a moderate use of poison without detriment to the individual? The Rev. gentleman then stated the object of much associations, was the elevation of mankind and the banishment of intemperance with all its concomitant evils. By the enactment of a Maine Law no man would be injured, but thousands—benefited—thousands who are now incapable of resisting the temptation to drink. Hence it became a moral duty upon every man to use his efforts to suppress it. He then urged the ladies to unite all their energies in driving this enemy of the family circle, from the country. The electors, too, should remember to use the franchise; the duty they have to perform; and by one voted first, the cause would prevail. "Applause."

Choir—"Glasgow." Mr. (Mr. Bache) introduced, and commenced his address by instancing two towns on the other side of 35° in one place the license system was adopted, in the other, no licenses were granted, and showed the marked difference in the appearance of the places—the character of the inhabitants, &c. All the rummies and drunks, dispersed from the one place to the other—the opponents of prohibition said, fault with temperance itself; but he would like to have them show where the use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage, has ever been useful, since the day Noah drank. (Cheers and laughter.) He could not see how any reasonable man could plead for the continuance of a thing which threatens the destruction of society and the introduction of crime and misery. The temperance movement of the present day, gave evidence of the advancement of the world in social progress. And although the progress were slow, so soon as society had grown up to the point, the cause would triumph and a Maine Law would be enacted for Canada. Elder Fowler gave an epitome of the progress of the cause from the introduction of the old temperance pledge, to the present—showing the kind of opposition they had to contend against; and congratulated the temperance people upon the success that had thus far attended their efforts. He was repeatedly cheered during his address.

Choir—"Auld Lang Syne."

Rev. Mr. Caswell was the next speaker, and after a few introductory remarks, said he agreed with a former speaker, that this cause was intimately connected with the cause of God. For his own part, he was glad to think the truth had been sown into good and honest hearts that could never have been reached through the pulpit. If he had language to convey to them the thousandth part of the evil, crime and misery, or the concomitant evils attendant upon the use of alcohol, he should send them away weeping and under powerful convictions. So long as alcohol was used, all the evils would exist. The cause had two most powerful influences to oppose—apetite and interest; and were it not for these, the white banner of temperance would float in every part of the country. "Hear, hear." We should be careful how we countenance that which will ruin us for time and for eternity. Great care should be taken that appetite and interest, does not get the advantage. Temperance men should not flatter themselves because the cause was good, it would flourish. It would see the cause triumph; they must work—work faithfully and diligently. Many men, good and true, had been disengaged by the deceptions of our parliamentary representatives; but their motto should be "never despair." Turn out these men who had proven themselves false to principle, and elect others, and the cause would triumph. He rejoiced at the success of the Holland Landing—"and also rejoiced that the walls of this hall were also to echo at the sound of the gospel." The Rev. gentleman concluded his remarks at considerable length, and was listened to with interest.

Choir—"Touch not the cap."

Rev. Mr. Goldsmith was the next speaker, who commenced by saying, he thought the whole question was contained in a nutshell.

One or two facts would serve to prove this point. Drunkenness was a vicious evil, and if people would not drink they would not get drunk. "Hear, hear." Let any evil arise one end, and the people would rise to its height for self-protection.

Should any cause exist for the destruction of any of the lower order of animals, steps should be taken at once to remove it, but because it was of animal nature, it should not be removed.

Mr. (Mr. Bache) said all he wanted was to come out fair and square. "Hear, hear." He was acting with the wishes of the people; if he (Mr. B.) would show him what was the wish of the people, then he would act accordingly. The adoption of this By-Law would lead to increased taxation, and this was why he opposed it, and would do what he could to openly condemn it.

Mr. (Mr. Bache) said he was astonished to find furnished facts of a most conclusive character. Those among others, were the reasons why it had abandoned its use and sale of this most destructive drug. One of the strongest arguments, he said, was the great and growing evils arising from the use of it. The object of this meeting was to raise funds to fit up the Hall in which they were assembled for a two-fold purpose—temperance and religious. He could not congratulate the Sons of Temperance, and Holland Landing, that they were not disposed to make the door more narrow for religious than for temperance services.

It was an old saying—that wonders would never cease, and a report in yesterday's papers, of the proceedings of a certain synod, verified its truthfulness; for we learn that a quiet body adopted a petition to be presented to the next session of Parliament, praying for the erection of an Asylum for Inebriates. (Laughter.)

THE FREE-LOVERS AT UTICA.—At the

Overcoming Convention" of Free-Lovers

at Utica, Mrs. JULIA BRANUCH was the leading spirit, as she was at Rutland. She made a speech on prostitution, and wound up with the following curious resolution:

Resolved, That as the crime of Infidelity has increased, and is increasing yearly, under the existing laws of marriage, that all children born under any circumstances, within any State, shall be declared by that State legitimate.

The "Convention" adjourned sine die on Saturday.

How much will you charge me for a horse and wagon to go to Salem?

“Five dollars.”

Cleat went to Salem, came back by rail;

went to stable, saying—“Here is your money,” paying him five dollars.

“Where is my horse and wagon?” says

“He is at Salem,” says Cleat, “I only brought him to terms.”

“This brought him to terms.”

The COMET.—Since Sunday last, the com-

north-western direction. It has been visible from an hour to an hour and a half each even-

Astronomers compute that the comet is now about 140,000,000 miles distant, and is rapidly approaching the earth. During the first week in October it will be of the most striking brightness.”
